Power charge your future with a truly international academic experience

The Global MBA | International Triple Degree is a joint programme between Loyola University in New Orleans, USA, Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität (LMU Munich) in Munich, Germany and SKEMA Business School in Paris, France. This collaboration allows students to study within a multicultural learning environment across three prestigious campuses in three different countries. Working with renowned academics to identify the key issues and challenges of a global economy, students will graduate with an MBA from Loyola University, a Master in Management (Diplôme Programme Grande Ecole) from SKEMA Business School and a Master of Science in Management from LMU.

BUILD AN INTERNATIONAL CAREER

We live in a globalised world and never has it been more important to understand international business management and the cultural prism that shapes our management practice. Whether you plan to start your own business or hold a senior management position within a multinational company, the Global MBA | International Triple Degree will help you develop key management and operational skills to lay the foundations of a successful international career.

UNIVERSITY NEW ORLEANS

MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

“The Global MBA | International Triple Degree is a unique, one-of-a-kind opportunity for our graduate students to experience true international immersion in three of the world’s most innovative and culturally important cities.

Led by a world-class faculty with significant business experience, each MBA course incorporates industry expertise into the classroom, with a focus on current events that are shaping the business world (every student gets a subscription to the Wall Street Journal). Deeply committed to mentoring students, faculty members encourage active participation and provide individual support and feedback. The College features small classes and focuses on the most important areas of applied business. This course structure and design supports a high-touch learning environment that helps build connections between students and faculty and facilitates open exchange and communication.

Students in the Loyola University New Orleans College of Business become part of a distinguished learning community created to cultivate the next generation of ethical business leaders. This accessible and innovative business degree is for forward-thinking and responsible professionals who want to thrive in the global economy and serve the common good. Through direct engagement with faculty and peers, students explore new concepts, tackle complex problems and create innovative solutions. This collaborative approach allows students to develop strong business acumen and essential leadership skills.

Beyond business fundamentals, the College emphasizes the importance of ethics and social responsibility in decision making and equips students with the knowledge and skills to make a difference in the world. Based on the Jesuit values of community, caring and leading through service, the Loyola College of Business remains committed to developing outstanding leaders who can thrive in the ever-changing, complex and fast-paced world of business.

There are three main areas of emphasis within the Loyola New Orleans College of Business: Ethics, Entrepreneurship and International Business. For instance, the Center for Entrepreneurship and Community Development is open to all Loyola students interested in starting their own business or just learning more about entrepreneurship. Activities include pitch competitions, mentoring for start-ups, workshops and webinars in entrepreneurship.

U.S. News and World Report recently ranked multiple graduate programs as some of the best in the United States with Entrepreneurship at #14 and International Business at #17. The College has been AACSB-accredited since 1950 (only 5% of schools world-wide have this accreditation).”

MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

“ SKEMA Business School stands as a pioneering higher education institution that has created a new model of education. Our mission is to empower younger generations to become catalysts in shaping societies, serving as ambassadors of youth worldwide during their studies, and to become visionary leaders and decision-makers dedicated to creating lasting impact.

At the same time, you can check the To achieve this, SKEMA fosters convergence between youthful vision and meaningful action. We recognise the diverse backgrounds of our students and firmly believe in the power of collective action. Young minds can confront the challenges of our times: ecological, climatic, social, and economic transitions.

With campuses established on five continents — North America, South America, Asia, Africa, and Europe — our students get global exposure. They are primed for the complexities of globalised, multicultural, innovative, and socially responsible companies and organisations. At SKEMA, our educational programmes and students' international experiences are rooted in strong core values: daring, sustainability, diversity, striving for excellence, and working for the greater good. As a not-for-profit organisation, we hold a recognised position of public interest. Our strategy is designed to empower students and partner companies alike in making significant contributions to societal development, while respecting the unique cultural contexts of each campus's region across the world. ”

MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

“Our world-class faculty and programs teach a comprehensive managerial perspective, providing our students with a broad educational experience.”

As part of LMU Munich, an internationally renowned university, we are one of the leading institutions for business education and research in Germany. The students of LMU

Munich School of Management benefit from a world-class faculty, which is excellent in their respective fields and has strong links to the business community. Given the strength of the interdisciplinary teaching and research community, the educational programs equip our students with the necessary skills required in a rapidly changing world.

Situated in the heart of Munich, LMU Munich School of Management benefits from its proximity to the headquarters of major German corporations. This includes regional offices of multinational companies as well as numerous small and medium-sized enterprises, often referred to as 'hidden champions,' and a vibrant startup ecosystem in the greater Munich area. This thriving business environment offers our students valuable opportunities to engage with a diverse entrepreneurial landscape, both during and after their studies.

Thanks to this vibrant academic and business environment, you will find your time at the LMU Munich School of Management to be an enriching and transformative experience.”

LMU IN BRIEF...

The Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität was founded in 1472 in Ingolstadt and is one of the oldest universities in Germany. The university moved from Ingolstadt to Landshut in 1800 and was transferred in 1826 by King Ludwig I from Landshut to Munich.

Today the LMU is one of the largest universities in Germany. In the winter term 2023/24, 52,972 students (60% of whom were female and 10,496 of whom were international students) were registered at LMU Munich. The university and its hospital employ 827 professors and have 5,972 scientific employees and is renowned for its excellence in the field of research. LMU Munich offers a wide range of courses and course combinations, with over 300 subjects to choose from.

In the University library and its affiliated libraries, more than five million books and journals can be found. The university's main building is located right in the city center. Since the mid-1970's several large new complexes house the faculties of medicine, veterinary medicine, physics, chemistry, biology, and pharmacy. These faculties have developed on the perimeter of the city to the south in Großhadern and to the north in Oberschleißheim and Garching.

THE PROGRAMME'S KEY POINTS

1 THREE COUNTRIES

Parlez vous français ? Oder vielleicht sogar Deutsch ? Don't worry, all your courses will be held in English. Nevertheless, with the Global MBA | International Triple Degree, you will get the most out of living and studying in three different countries. You will gain international experience during your studies, a key requirement for today's business environment.

2 THREE SCHOOLS

Global MBA | International Triple Degree students benefit from the worldwide reputation of three prestigious schools: Loyola University (New Orleans, USA), Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität (Munich, Germany) and SKEMA Business School (Paris, France).

3 THREE DEGREES

Upon successful completion of the programme, you will be awarded three degrees; a Global MBA from Loyola University, a Master in Management "Diplôme Grande Ecole" from SKEMA Business School and a Master of Science from LMU. The programme includes a Master Thesis, to be written once you have completed your academic studies, and this is mandatory for both SKEMA BS and LMU in order to obtain their respective degrees. This work allows you to consolidate knowledge acquired during your studies and provides the opportunity to gain in depth knowledge within a particular field of business management. You will be able to choose supervisor from any one of the three institutions.

4 STUDY WITH YOUR COHORT

We have designed a cohort-model that allows you to start and graduate with the same classmates. Enhance your network, make friends all over the globe and enjoy an enriching learning experience alongside an international study group.

5 ALUMNI NETWORK

Our graduate will join a huge international alumni community. This professional community will allow you to build and consolidate your career by networking across borders, sharing management experience and business opportunities.

PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

INTAKES & CAMPUSES

- Fall: Loyola University (New Orleans, US)
- Spring: SKEMA Business School (Paris, France)
- Summer/fall: Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München (Munich, Germany).

CREATE VALUE

Understanding the science behind consumer behaviour and the notion of added value is the key to developing a successful marketing strategy. Strategic Marketing (Term 1) focuses on the question of how individual and societal benefits are created in the first place and how to identify and prioritise customer values. In ethical business issues, a manager must find the right strategy to deal with problems that threaten the business (Ethics and Social Justice – Term 1). Applying the right tools will help you, as a manager, to identify possible solutions and to make optimal decisions (Managerial Economics & Statistics – Term 1; Data-based Decision-making – Term 3).

MANAGE OPERATIONS AND PROJECTS

You need to be aware of theoretical and empirical concepts in modern finance (Corporate Finance – Term 2, Financial Risk Management – Term 3). Additionally, as a manager, you need to understand how to build a sustainable business within complex environments (Supply Chain Management – Term 2). From time to time, major projects will disrupt your daily business. You need to know how to successfully manage these projects (International Project Management – Term 2).

BALANCE BETWEEN DIVERGING INTERESTS OF DIFFERENT STAKEHOLDER GROUPS

Some say customers are the most important resource for a firm, others say employees are the most valuable resource a company has. What about politicians that have an impact on your licence to operate? Or investors and suppliers? Stakeholders all have different expectations and needs. As a leader, you will have to tackle those challenges and find a balance. The accounting module (Financial Reporting & Managerial Accounting – Term 1) primarily focuses on shareholder interests, while Strategic Stakeholder Management (Term 2) takes a broader view, and Organisational Behaviour & Leadership (Term 1) teaches you key skills to manage the different stakeholders within your company.

Communications skills will be reinforced in Strategic Communications (Term 3).

To prepare you for your career and enable you to apply knowledge within a real-world environment, the course Competitive Strategy and Consulting Project (Term 3) helps you develop procedural knowledge, whilst Innovation and Entrepreneurship (Term 2) will allow you to transform your business ideas into working practice to build a company.
