Writing Center

The Support Team
for Academic Writing

UB

Our offerings for students:

Personalized Counseling

Whether you're dealing with writer's block, uncertainty about style, or problems with text structure—the Writing Center's specially trained team is here to help! If you encounter obstacles or have questions that arise during the writing process, we'll work together in one-on-one sessions to develop strategies for solving them.

Friday Workshops

Every friday, our workshops focus on a wide range of topics related to academic writing: proper citation, developing study habits, choosing a topic, using AI in writing, and more. As a group, we learn together what matters most and methods for successfully completing a term paper. An overview of all offerings can be found in the event calendar under the "Writing Center" filter.

E-Learning

If you prefer to learn on your own, you can try out our e-learning modules on Moodle. The individual chapters take you step by step through many aspects of academic writing. We'll be happy to provide you with the login information upon request—just send us a quick e-mail.
