

LMU-SU Partnership Program

*Call for Applications
- for the 2026 funding period -*

Premise

The SU-LMU Partnership Program was established in 2025 to promote and support research collaboration between Stellenbosch University (SU) and Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität Munich (LMU) across a wide range of disciplines and academic levels. Both institutions have committed resources to this partnership.

Eligibility

Postdocs and professors employed at LMU/SU on a fixed-hours basis.

PhD candidates are not eligible to apply as PI, but are encouraged to take part in the projects.

For partnership development: Academic coordinators of the partnership together with staff of the international offices at LMU/SUN

Criteria

The SU-LMU Partnership recognizes the different cultures and requirements across disciplines. Therefore, the concrete implementation of the initiatives is left to the scholars. However, projects falling under the broad remits below will be prioritized.

- Project design and rationale
Proposals that demonstrate potential in having broad impact in the field of study and/or the PI's research activity, and that ideally make a significant contribution to the joint research agendas of both partner institutions
- Sustainability and long term option
Proposals that initiate new collaborations and have a clear plan to create a longer-term partnership and capacity building between SU and LMU researchers and support the development of the partnership (Interdisciplinarity, integration of new initiatives, visibility within the institutions). Proposals for which the applicants have concrete plans for a follow-up funding initiative.
- Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DEI)
Proposals that incorporate diverse perspectives and experiences into the project.
- Emerging Scholars, new generation of scholars
Proposals that also include young researchers as part of their team composition.

SU and LMU faculty members (Principal Investigators ("PIs")) are eligible to submit joint proposals. Collaborators from other institutions besides SU and LMU, subject to an appropriate balance between internal and external researchers, are eligible to participate in projects but are not eligible for any financial support from SU or LMU.
